Discover the top 10 benefits:

1. Scrap the paper

Paper-based processes can eat up large volumes of time related to tracking down documents, filing, following up on invoicing and more. With Bill.com, you can upload your bills and paperwork to a centralized, cloud-based repository that puts information right at your fingertips.

2. Reduce overhead

Eliminate the expenses associated with the salary, insurance and retirement accounts of in-house bookkeepers. Save a substantial amount of money that can be redirected back into the company.

3. Collect money more quickly

Give your customers more payment options, including credit card, PayPal or online directly from a bank. You can quickly see when a customer has reviewed an invoice or scheduled a payment, and you can set automatic reminders for due dates. These process enhancements enable you to collect receivables two to three times faster than paper-based processes.

4. Save time

Take the time previously spent on laborious tasks and concentrate it on high-yielding activities. Reduce the time you spend on bill approvals and payments by 50% or more. Time-heavy processes such as data entry, bank and check runs and following up on payment statuses are taken off your plate, so you can focus on business priorities.

5. Reduce the risk of fraud

Avoid the potential of being defrauded by employees or advisors who may have unsupervised access to critical financial information. Bill.com allows you to adopt automated workflows, restrict access and benefit from built-in alerts that can prevent potential fraud.

8. Eliminate double-entry and data management issues

Bill.com integrates with your accounting software, so you can eliminate time-consuming data entry and human error from manual re-typing. Simplify account reconciliation and sync payment data with your accounting system.

9. Always be prepared for taxes and audits

With Bill.com, you no longer have to scramble come tax time. All your financial activity is archived and audited, and can easily be reported.

10. Gain greater insight into your business

Gain the strategic insight you need around your financial performance. Eliminate bulky spreadsheets with a cloud-based reporting platform that is always up to date. This information allows you to project receivables and payables, reveals potential problems in advance and helps you rapidly plan for alternatives.
